Moderator explained that pursuant to Section 9-1 of the Town Charter the final vote on Item #2 will be adjourned to May 8, 2018. The meeting continued for the purpose of discussion and possible amendments. The Moderator encouraged all those who wished to speak to remain on topic and keep their comments brief. Discussion followed:

Christine Pattee, 98 Brookline Road, asked questions of Superintendent, David Petrone. States that she resolves to always support the school budget. She feels Coventry educational system pushes the grand list up. She is an avid user of the Library and Senior Center and is in support of upgrades.

William Zenko, 18 Maryann Drive, stated that he is in support of the budget and feels it is a reasonable one. He commended the Board of Education and Superintendent of the schools for the results they have been showing in education. He also commended the Town Council for bringing the citizens of Coventry this budget in conformation with the Town Charter. He also referred to the debacle of the previous year’s budget process being dragged out and the previous Town Councils interpretation of the Town Charter. He urged everyone to vote yes on the budget.

Holly Parker, 183 Standish Road, thanked John and the Town Council for their work on the budget. Also stated that it is absolutely critical to fund the Library.

Elizabeth Woolf, 10 Flanders Woods Lane, urges all citizens and registered voters to vote yes on May 8, 2018. Vote yes for needed infrastructure, reconstruction and improvements. She stated that voting yes will not impact our taxes until fiscal year 2019-2020. At this time of borrowing Coventry will have a decline in debt service. She thanked the Town Council and Board of Education for their hard work putting forth this budget. She applauds the current Town Council and Board of Ed for working together with a mutual respect for one another. She supports the Library as a community center and focal point for Coventry’s revitalized village. She states the Library services a diverse group. Her message to the Library staff is “Hang in there, we have your backs and we support you. Your work is greatly appreciated.”

John Twerdy, 605 Pucker Street, questioned if the Academy would be moving. David Petrone, Superintendent, responded that the Academy will stay on campus and this will be a savings to the district. John Twerdy stated he supports this and would like to educate these students rather than discard them to outsourcing.

Pamela S. Sewell, 1124 Flanders Road, had questions for Superintendent David Petrone. She asked if the Academy was strictly Special Ed. Petrone’s response was no, there are also students that don’t fit into traditional educational track. The Academy will be expanded next year down to 8th grade. How many students would be outsourced if we didn’t have an Academy? Petrones response 90% of the students would have to be outsourced. Pamela also asked about the Preschool. She wanted to know how many non-special-ed students were enrolled. Superintendent Petrone responded.
Lisa Thomas, 255 Geraldine Drive, thanked the audience for coming out and being part of the budget process. She stated that last year the residents of Coventry were denied the democratic process of voting on the annual budget and a .8 mill rate was imposed on them by the previous Town Council. She then stated that this budget is one half the mill rate that was imposed on Coventry residents last year. She applauded the ethic of the new Town Council and stated she was in support of both budgets. She stated that she felt both the Town Council and the Board of Ed worked diligently to rein in spending with anticipation of reduction in state aid once again.

Kathleen Breitenwischer, 61 Barbara Drive, questioned her Republican representatives on why they were not sitting at the table with the rest of the Council. Matt O’Brien Sr. responded that it was because they were sitting where they could see the presentations. Kathleen stated it would be nice to see the council sitting together as a whole because that is who the audience is speaking to. She said she hopes that everyone listens to the facts of the budget and not the myths. Kathleen referenced what has currently been put on Facebook. Breitenwischer stated she is in support of the budget and in support of the preschool.

Suzanne Haviland, 155 Standish Road, stated she supports the budget and is very happy with having the Town Meeting this year. As a new mother she is excited about the educational system in Coventry and is very impressed with the statistics provided in today’s presentation by the Board of Ed. She mentioned she is proud of new development in Coventry and brings guests around to view the progress. She is also a supporter of the Library.

Valdis Vinkels, 3160 South Street, stated he can’t think of more capable people than the Superintendent and the Town Manager.

Roger Mike, 85 Appian Way, stated that he has lived in Coventry for approximately two years and likes it here. He expressed that he was very impressed with both presentations and it was obvious to him that there was a lot of work put into them. His concern was that unless there are major changes in Hartford, the Town will be in the same position in regards to the budget in the years to come. He said he was upset with Hartford for creating problems that everyone else has to bear the brunt of. He asked if the Town Council has expressed these concerns. Town Manager, John Elsesser responded. John stated that the Town Council and Board of Education have written many letters on behalf of Coventry to the State. He also stated that he himself along with Joan Lewis have spent countless hours at the legislative office building waiting to testify on certain issues. He expressed the importance of hearing everyone’s voice from the community.

Tim Timberman (De Wilton Timberman) 1194 Main Street, Tim applauded the Town Council and the Board of Ed members for their work on the budget. Tim stated that he felt that Coventry has some of the best people in the state running the business of the Town. Tim also said the Library has rock star people there and it is a great community. He stated that all town departments are given a slim amount of money and still able to perform at the highest level. He specified that he felt the Town does need to improve on Capital Improvements.

Stephanie Dakin, 113 Armstrong Road, Thanked the Board of Education for all of their hard work. She stated she is very impressed with the quality of the education in Coventry. She also affirmed that she spends a lot of time at the Library and is in support of the budget.
